INVITATION

Motivation Factor Basic Certification

This intensive virtual certification program (4 x 3-hour sessions) will take you through the Motivation Factor methodology, assessment tool, workshops and best practices.

The certification will prepare you to kick start Motivation Factor as part of your consulting practice, or as a valuable management tool - virtual or on-site.

WHO?

You should consider a Motivation Factor Certification if:

- You have a profound interest in learning how to connect motivation to new research in brain science
- You work in an organization and would like to learn about new tools to reveal what motivates employees
- You work as a consultant and are looking for tools to help your clients uncover what motivates them
- You are part of a training organization that is looking for new motivational tools to build into current training programs
- You have experience as a facilitator
- You have experience coaching people in organizations
- You have some knowledge within the field of positive and cognitive psychology, emotional intelligence and/or appreciative inquiry

OUTCOME

Once you are certified, you will be able to use all of our assessment tools with colleagues or clients - virtual or on-site.

All Motivation Factor assessments and methodologies are based on the newest research within the field of Neuropsychology and have gone through extensive validation and reliability verification by the Boston Research Group. The assessments are used widely around the world with more than 35,000 users.

You will be able to facilitate motivation workshops with individuals and teams (with an individual approach), or include Motivation Factor in your existing training offerings - virtual or on-site.

You will be able to work with clients on defining their unique Hierarchy of Motivation so they have their own blueprint for motivation to help them quickly identify what to pursue and what to avoid to stay motivated in any context.

You will become part of a fast growing international network of powerful Motivation Factor Practitioners, where sharing knowledge and resources are key values.
